Dear Special Master Judah Gribetz:

On behalf of our members of Sheerit Hapleithah, I am writing this letter in strong support of the Holocaust Victim Assets Litigation proposal being submitted by Holocaust Community Services – a joint program of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago, Jewish Family and Community Service and Council for Jewish Elderly.

Sheerit Hapleithah is the umbrella organization of the Holocaust Survivor Groups. We have five executive members on the Advisory Board working together with the Holocaust community services in helping the survivors in the community. We urge you to assist them in their regard. Our survivors are getting older and the need for assistance with their daily necessities and upkeep is of great importance.

The Holocaust community Services program has provided vital resources and services, which include concrete services, home delivered meals, counseling, care management, advocacy, support groups, community programs, medication management, support to survivor organizations, respite and adult day care, are partially subsidized for those survivors who cannot afford to pay the full fee. As the population continues to age, it is critical that we secure additional resources to serve at-risk survivors in the Chicago areas.

Sincerely,

Charles Lipshitz
President

Dear Special Master Judah Gribetz:

On behalf of the Holocaust Memorial Foundation of Illinois and as a Holocaust survivor, I am writing this letter in strong support of the Holocaust Victim Assets Litigation proposal being submitted by Holocaust Community Services—a joint program of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago, Jewish Family and Community Service and Council for Jewish Elderly.

Our organization, founded by Holocaust survivors more than twenty years ago to provide and promote education regarding the Holocaust to students, educators and the community at large, is directly involved with Holocaust Community Services and that program's efforts to serve the survivors in our area. We act as a location for the weekly Coffee & Conversation program; provide advice and instruction regarding restitution-related paperwork; provide translation of German language documents; and send a representative to the Holocaust Community Services Advisory Committee, in order to remain attuned to survivor needs and issues.

The Holocaust Community Services program has provided vital resources and services to more than 700 survivors in this community over the past four years. These services, including concrete services, home delivered meals, counseling, care management, advocacy, support groups, community programs, medication management, support to survivor organizations, respite and adult day care, are partially subsidized for those survivors who cannot afford to pay the full fee. As the population continues to age, it is critical that we secure additional resources to serve at-risk survivors in the Chicago area.

I urge you to give the proposal of Holocaust Community Services your favorable consideration.

Sincerely,

Samuel R. Harris, President

Independent Auditors' Report

Board of Directors of Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago as of June 30, 2003, and the related statements of activities, departmental expenses and directly related revenue and of cash flows for the fiscal year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The prior year summarized comparative information has been derived from the 2002 financial statements and, in our report dated November 18, 2002, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with U.S. generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago as of June 30, 2003, and the changes in net assets and cash flows for the fiscal year then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Note 1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A summary of significant accounting policies followed by the organization is as follows:

General—The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting (except that legacies and bequests, the amounts of which are not currently determinable, are recorded as received on the cash basis of accounting) and in conformity with accounting principles applicable to nonprofit organizations.

SFAS No. 117 establishes standards for general-purpose external financial statements issued by nonprofit organizations. It requires that net assets and related revenue, expenses, gains and losses be classified into three classes of net assets - unrestricted, temporarily restricted and permanently restricted, based upon the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. A definition and description of each net asset class follows:

Unrestricted Net Assets—Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions including the carrying value of all physical properties (land, buildings and equipment). Items that affect (i.e., increase or decrease) this net asset category include amounts received from government agencies, program service fees and all expenses associated with the core activities of the organization. In addition to these activities, changes in this category of net assets include certain types of board designated funds and philanthropic support, namely unrestricted contributions and federated fundraising organizations, investment income and restricted contributions whose donor-imposed restrictions were met during the fiscal period.

Temporarily Restricted Net Assets—Net assets subject to donor-imposed restrictions that will be met either by actions of the organization or the passage of time. Items that affect this net asset category are restricted contributions and grants. These amounts are reclassified to unrestricted net assets when such restrictions are met or have expired.

Permanently Restricted Net Assets—Net assets restricted by donors to be invested in perpetuity are reflected as permanently restricted assets. Investment income, including realized and unrealized gains on such assets, is recorded directly in unrestricted income unless specifically restricted by the donor (see Note 15).

Cash and Cash Equivalents—Cash equivalents are defined as all highly liquid investments purchased with a maturity of three months or less. The cash balance currently exceeds federally insured limits. However, the Jewish Federation has not experienced any losses in such accounts and management does not believe that it is exposed to any significant credit risk.

Investments in Marketable Securities—Investments in marketable securities are stated at market value.

The difference between the aggregate market values of investments in marketable securities as of the end of the year and their market values at the beginning of the year for investments still owned (or the cost, for acquisitions during the year) and the net gain or losses on dispositions of investments are reflected as net gain or loss on investment activity.

Note 1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, Continued

Due from Affiliated Agencies—Due from affiliated agencies consist primarily of amounts due to/from JFMC Facilities Corporation (Facilities) relating to bond financing for renovations of property owned by the Jewish Federation but managed by Facilities.

Philanthropic Funds—These funds are donor advised funds of a public charity where the donor retains the power to recommend how the income and/or principal shall be used to fulfill the charitable purposes of the Jewish Federation/Jewish United Fund of Metropolitan Chicago. These funds are designated by the board of the organization and the donor solely for these purposes.

Donated Services—No amounts have been reflected herein for donated services because they do not meet the defined requirements for inclusion in the financial statements.

Refugee and Immigrant Program—The Jewish Federation administers on behalf of the Illinois Department of Public Aid state funds allocated for the purpose of specified services to refugees and immigrants. Funds received and distributions made to participating agencies under these programs are accounted for in the Custodian Fund. All costs incurred by the Jewish Federation in connection with administering the programs, and reimbursements for such costs from the state agency, are reflected as departmental expenses and sundry revenue on the statement of activities.

Reclassifications—Certain items for fiscal 2002 have been reclassified to conform to fiscal 2003 classifications without affecting totals of previously reported net assets.

Management Estimates—In preparing financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments—The carrying amounts reflected in the statement of financial position for loans and pledges receivable and bank loans and bonds payable approximate their respective fair values. Management has estimated the fair values by discounting expected cash flows using interest rates that management believes are approximately equal to the interest rates currently available for similar financing arrangements. Investments in marketable securities are carried at market value, which is equivalent to fair value.

Note 2 Nature of Activities

The major source of funds for current operations of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago is provided by the Jewish United Fund of Metropolitan Chicago, which conducts fundraising activities by means of annual calendar year campaigns and makes allocations to beneficiaries (primarily the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago and the United Jewish Communities). For the fiscal years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002, the Jewish Federation received allocations of $24,230,690 and $23,683,376 from the 2002 and 2001 Jewish United Fund campaigns.

Note 2 Nature of Activities, Continued

The Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago makes appropriations to its affiliated agencies (pursuant to certain "Principles of Affiliation Agreements") and other beneficiaries, which are primarily engaged in charitable, educational, social welfare and health activities. Appropriations for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002 were as follows (see Note 5):

	2003	2002
Regular appropriations (includes $66,097 in 2003 and $43,215 in 2002 funded by satisfaction of donor restrictions)	$ 30,739,749	$ 30,395,584
Special appropriations	5,008,522	4,675,804
	$ 35,748,271	$ 35,071,388

In accordance with the Principles of Affiliation Agreements between the Jewish Federation and its affiliated agencies, the affiliated agencies may not negotiate any merger or material transfer of their assets without approval of the Jewish Federation and, in the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the affairs of an affiliated agency, the net proceeds, after payment of all debts, are to be distributed to the Jewish Federation.

The Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and applicable state law.

Note 3 Departmental Expenses

Pursuant to an arrangement between the Jewish United Fund of Metropolitan Chicago and the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago (which operate from common premises and in many instances utilize the same personnel), the Jewish United Fund makes expenditures for all "common expenses" and charges the Jewish Federation for its respective share thereof. Such "common expenses" are allocated among the two organizations based, in part, on specific agency identification of certain expenses and, in part, by allocating other expenses on previously determined ratios.

For the fiscal years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002, the Jewish United Fund has charged the Jewish Federation with the net amounts of $2,518,764 and $2,357,819 for such expenses (as reduced by directly related revenue), as follows:

	2003	2002
Departmental expenses (exclusive of Refugee and Immigrant Social Services Program revenue and expense)	$ 3,435,461	$ 3,277,347
Directly related revenue	(916,697)	(919,528)

Hillel Buildings

In previous fiscal years, the Jewish Federation received title to certain property in Champaign, Illinois. The appraised market value of the Champaign property has not been ascertained, thus, the property is reflected on the financial statements at a $1 nominal value plus the cost of capital improvements. In the event the property should be sold, the proceeds of the sale would be restricted for the purchase of a comparable alternative facility for the students of the University of Illinois in Champaign.

Bernard Horwich Property

In September 1988, the Jewish Federation purchased the Bernard Horwich property located in Chicago, Illinois from the Jewish Community Centers of Chicago (an affiliated agency) for use by the Jewish Community Centers, the Council for Jewish Elderly and the Jewish Family and Community Services. The Jewish Community Centers has retained an equity interest in the proceeds of any future sale of the property, equal to 40 percent of the excess of such proceeds over the base purchase cost and other capital items, as specified.

In order to finance the Bernard Horwich Building acquisition and improvements, the Jewish Federation entered into an agreement with the County of Cook, Illinois for the issuance of approximately $5,000,000 of Revenue Bonds, Series 1989. These bonds were transferred to JFMC Facilities Corporation during 1998 and were refinanced by JFMC Facilities Corporation through bond escrow funds held from the Series 1996 Revenue Bonds (see Note 18). In connection with the transfer, JFMC Facilities Corporation assumed all rights to lease agreements and is responsible for all costs of operating the property. In addition, certain leasehold improvements, equipment and furniture and fixture costs were transferred to JFMC Facilities Corporation. The Jewish Federation holds title to the property.

Leases have been entered into with the Jewish Community Centers, the Council for Jewish Elderly and the Jewish Family and Community Services which provide for annual rentals to be based on occupancy and other specified costs. The lease terms expire in fiscal year 2005.

Illinois Development Finance Authority - Series 1999

Pursuant to an agreement dated September 23, 1999 with the Illinois Development Finance Authority, the Jewish Federation received proceeds from tax-exempt bonds in the amount of $4,115,000, to be used for renovation and software development. The Jewish Federation was one of the borrowers from the proceeds of the Variable Rate Demand Revenue Bonds, Series 1999 (Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago Projects); the remaining proceeds were issued to JFMC Facilities Corporation, Jewish Community Centers of Chicago and Council for Jewish Elderly, affiliated agencies of the Jewish Federation. The Federation portion of the bonds matures in September 2009 and bears interest in a weekly mode, as defined, until converted to a different mode. The affiliated agencies bonds are due at various maturities from 2020 to 2024. The effective interest rate for fiscal 2003 was approximately 1.2 percent (2002 - 2 percent). Fiscal 2003 interest of $44,696 and $432,259 incurred in prior years has been capitalized as part of the cost of the software. The bonds are insured by AMBAC and secured by unrestricted net assets of the borrowers and a pledge and lien on the revenue and receipts of the assets financed by the bond proceeds. The Jewish Federation has entered into a Guarantee Agreement whereby it has guaranteed the payment of the aggregate principal amount of $23,910,000 (carrying value of $17,460,000) and interest thereon. The borrowers will apply the proceeds of the bonds together with other available funds, to finance or refinance the acquisition, construction and equipping of existing facilities of the borrowers.

The Jewish Federation portion of the bonds will mature in September 2032 and bear interest in a daily mode, as defined, until converted to a different mode. The effective interest rate for fiscal 2003 was approximately 1.2 percent. Fiscal 2003 interest of $77,742 has been capitalized as part of the cost of the One South Franklin improvements. The affiliated agencies' bonds are due at various maturities from 2026 to 2032. The bonds are insured by AMBAC and secured by unrestricted net assets of the borrowers, property purchased or developed with the bond proceeds and a pledge and lien on the revenue and receipts of the assets financed by the bond proceeds. Jewish Federation has entered into a Guaranty Agreement whereby it has guaranteed the payment of the aggregate principal amount of $41,810,000 (carrying value of $33,900,000) and interest thereon.

Management believes that the liquidating value of the secured assets, would exceed the Jewish Federation's obligations for each of the aforementioned bonds.

Future principal maturities on the bonds are as follows:

FERST is a defined contribution trusteed plan, employer contributions to which are computed on the basis of a percentage of salary. The plans cover substantially all of the organization's employees.

Annual contributions paid or accrued by the agency are determined as a percentage of payroll and are at the direction of Jewish Federation's board of directors based on recommendations from its Administration Committee. The amounts provided for each of the fiscal years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002 were approximately $215,000 and $180,000, respectively.

The Jewish Federation is the second guarantor on the payment of tax-exempt bonds issued in fiscal by the Illinois Development Finance Authority in the amount of $5,000,000. The bond proceeds were issued to Mount Sinai Institute (the first guarantor) to finance construction of a new facility for the Sinai Community Institute to be located in Chicago, Illinois. The bonds are payable over a 20-year term with annual debt service payments, including principal and interest, in the amount of $410,000.

The Jewish Federation is also the guarantor on indebtedness incurred by six of its affiliated agencies in amounts ranging from $500,000 to $8,224,000 (aggregating $28,800,000).

All of the aforementioned borrowings are secured by the property purchased and developed with bond proceeds, unrestricted net assets of the borrowers and a pledge and lien on the revenue and receipts of the assets financed by the bond proceeds (the tax-exempt bonds are also insured by AMBAC). Management believes that the liquidating value of the secured assets would exceed the Jewish Federation's obligations for each of the aforementioned guarantees.

Repairing the World...

Tikkun olam—the commitment to repair the world, one good deed at a time—is one of the universal precepts of Judaism. Every act of charity and each performance of a mitzvah help to make the world whole.

This ancient tenet had great significance this year, with much in our world so badly in need of repair. It was thus with a great sense of purpose that in 2003 the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago helped to fund essential social welfare, education and relief services for 300,000 people of all faiths here in Chicago and, through the Jewish United Fund, for two million Jews around the world.

During the fiscal year, which ended June 30, 2003, the Jewish Federation allocated a total of $43,883,325 to local agencies and programs whose services embrace members of our community at every stage of life. In partnership with our Donor Advised Continuity Funds, which include Family Philanthropic Funds and Support Foundations, an additional $49,596,359 was allocated to charitable ventures worldwide.

Through the Jewish United Fund and the Israel Emergency Campaign, another $51,888,980 was devoted to overseas needs across the globe.

This is a most challenging time for the global Jewish community. Nearly three years of horrific terror attacks have created unprecedented new needs in Israel. Jewish pensioners in the former Soviet Union and Jewish families in Argentina face increasing poverty, while Jews in Europe battle renewed anti-Semitism. At the same time that needs have skyrocketed overseas, the downturn in the U.S. economy has increased the demand for our local agencies' services.

We are proud to say that, in an incredibly demanding year for the nonprofit sector, Chicago's Jewish community once again stepped up to the plate. Under the leadership of Lawrence Glick, the 2002 JUF Annual Campaign raised $67 million. Under the leadership of Larry Hochberg, JUF also raised an additional $32.4 million in 2002 for the Israel Emergency Campaign—a special, second-line campaign to respond to the dire emergency needs of the State of Israel—for an overall 2002 total of $99.4 million.

It is an honor to report that there were 43,879 contributors to the 2002 Annual Campaign, an increase of 774 donors compared to 2001. In addition, there were 15,894 contributors to the Israel Emergency Campaign in 2002. During the past year, we set a record for new gifts, with nearly 8,300 people making a first-time donation. Significantly, a record 42,000 people in the Chicago area attended JUF campaign programs and events during the year.

Beyond responding to current crises, in 2003 the Federation also made great strides in planning for the future of this community through The Centennial Campaign, engaging growing numbers of capital and endowment donors to help safeguard our Jewish future for generations to come. To date, The Centennial Campaign has secured nearly 900 gifts totaling $302 million.

In addition to our tremendous Israel Emergency Campaign results, JUF/Federation has mobilized Chicago's Jewish community in solidarity with Israel in many other ways. We continue to regularly lead community missions to Israel, and to subsidize hundreds of young people's trips to Israel through JUF birthright Israel and other Federation programs. We have intensified our advocacy efforts on college campuses (more about that in the pages to follow). We reinvented the Walk With Israel as Israel Solidarity Day, a gigantic community celebration that drew a crowd of 18,000 to rally at Chicago's lakefront and show the world—and the media—their love and support for Israel.

Throughout the year, JUF/Federation and Jewish Community Relations Council (JCRC) leadership have worked nonstop with the news media and their editorial boards, holding meetings, writing letters to the editor, hosting news conferences and making media appearances to speak out against terror and promote Israel's point of view in the public arena—and to correct misleading and potentially dangerous reporting and editorial decisions.

...ועוד חיים את זה

With Andy Lappin at the helm, our 2003 JUF Annual Campaign is running hard. From March to June alone, some 36,000 people attended JUF events, rallying to support Israel, local needs and Chicago's vibrant community.

Though the JUF Annual Campaign provides the lifeblood for the community's network of services, the Federation also seeks to leverage government funding in a strategic manner. All told, the Federation system took in $301.2 million in government funding from the federal, state and municipal levels last year. When Medicaid and Medicare are factored out of the equation, government funding for our social services totaled $40.3 million last year.

In these uncertain times, it is good to know that we stand on solid ground as we grid for the future. Moody Rating Services recently upgraded Federation's credit rating from A2 to A1. This is a remarkable achievement for a social welfare operation—especially in this economic climate. No other federation or 501(c)(3) that we know of has a Moody Rating. Moody is not alone in its vote of support for this Federation's strength and stability. As featured in Business Week last November, Federation has received a four-star rating and been ranked eighth in the nation among 2,500 nonprofits evaluated by the online rating service, Charity Navigator.

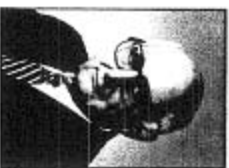

Our community's tremendous level of participation and volunteerism is one of the reasons this organization is as efficient as it is effective. We are eternally grateful to the thousands of volunteers throughout the Federation system whose talents and sweat equity allow us to expand our reach and maximize our resources in serving the community. The following pages detail some of these remarkable volunteer initiatives, and highlight some of the newest programs and service innovations they have helped make possible.

This network of programs and services is nothing less than our reason for being. Never for one moment do we forget that our resource development efforts are simply the means to an end—and that is the network of programs and services to assist the most vulnerable people in our midst: seniors, children, people with disabilities, immigrants, families struggling with poverty, and individuals searching for work.

We look forward to meeting the challenge of serving them, and all of the community, for decades to come.

Repairing the World...

Jewish Federation agencies have long been at the vanguard of societal trends, pioneering such watershed social service offerings as foster care for children, vocational education for people with disabilities, and community-based services that allow seniors to remain in their own homes. Federation agencies continually challenge themselves to offer new program innovations and service initiatives that increase their effectiveness and reach in serving the community.

▲ This was a big year for Jewish Children's Bureau (JCB), which broke ground for the new Joy Faith Knapp Children's Center. Thanks to a $5 million lead gift through Federation's Centennial Campaign, the Knapp Center will serve as the new home for JCB's therapeutic day school and a number of other critical programs. The building will be equipped with a library, gymnasium, theater, chapel and playground designed for children with disabilities. The new space will allow JCB to increase the overall number of children served by more than 60%.

▲ Response Center, which serves at-risk teens, also enjoyed a very successful year, and was honored with a Community Service Award from the Illinois Association of Park Districts and the Illinois Park and Recreation Association. Located in Skokie with a new, burgeoning satellite branch in Buffalo Grove, Response Center combines the resources of five Federation agencies: JCCs, Jewish Family & Community Service, Jewish Vocational Service, Sinai Health System and Jewish Children's Bureau.

▲ Another significant area of expansion to serve the next generation—also made possible thanks to The Centennial Campaign—is the Sidney N. Shure Kehilla program, a joint effort of the JCCs and local Orthodox, Reform and Conservative synagogues, that started on the north side of Chicago. In 2003, this exceptional outreach initiative for young adults was expanded to offer programming in the Gold Coast and Hyde Park communities.

▲ At the other end of the age spectrum, Council for Jewish Elderly (CJE) this year expanded its programs and services to the Gold Coast and Downtown areas. CJE also offers a growing menu of services for people with Alzheimer's and those who love and care for them, including new support groups, both for people with Early Stage Alzheimer's and for spouses of people with Alzheimer's.

▲ Working together, CJE and Federation have secured $250,000 in federal funding for a pilot program to provide services to allow senior citizens to live in their own homes for as long as possible. Matching funds have been secured from Polk Bros. Foundation, the Boeing Company and CJE itself to begin delivering services in Naturally Occurring Retirement Communities, or "NORCs." NORCs are buildings or neighborhoods where the majority of residents are over 60 and "aging in place."

▲ Jewish Family and Community Service (JFCS) is embarking on a community-wide program to strengthen the family lives of refugees resettled through the Federation system—including victims of ethnic cleansing from Vietnam, Bosnia and Kosovo, as well as newcomers from the countries of the former Soviet Union.

▲ In this difficult economy, the initiatives of the Jewish Vocational Service (JVS) have taken on added importance. Last year, there was a 68% increase in professional and managerial job applications at JVS. Despite the massive downsizing in our community, JVS achieved an impressive 27% increase in its job placements. JVS has now established many services within the community—classrooms without walls. Barnes & Noble stores host JVS' Expert Lecture series; congregations are used for monthly networking meetings; 10 public libraries across the metropolitan area provide space for a JVS career counselor; and local businesses sponsor the Duman Microenterprise Center & Loan Fund entrepreneurial seminars.

▲ A spectacular new building for the Spertus Institute of Jewish Studies will join the Michigan Avenue

One life at a Time

Mark had been working as a commercial property manager for a major bank when a downturn in the economy eliminated his position. So he engaged in networking, made plans to return to graduate school—and gave his resume to the Jewish Employment Network (JEN).

A networking circle based in area synagogues, JEN is a partnership between Jewish Vocational Service (JVS), more than 60 affiliated congregations, the Chicago Board of Rabbis and the Jewish Federation, primarily serving middle- and upper-level managers and professionals.

Mark's resume caught the eye of the man who is now his boss. Today, the boss refers to Mark as his right hand man and Mark says: "I am so thankful to JVS for linking me with a job I love."

Raising a child with special needs often demands that parents become round-the-clock caregivers. Jewish Children's Bureau (JCB) offers short-term relief to parents through its Respite Program. While parents catch up on their lives or simply spend time with each other, a trained JCB respite worker provides therapeutic care for the child with special needs.

"Respite helps us be better parents; it assists us in doing the best job we can," said David's and Jonathan's mom. "JCB is the only organization that offers us this kind of support; they deserve all the attention in the world for this program. We're all so grateful..."

skyline by the end of 2006. This high-profile new facility, made possible with a lead gift from philanthropist Helen Asher through The Centennial Campaign, will allow Spertus to better serve its students and visitors, and to meet the needs of new audiences. In addition to improved technology and updated classrooms, the new facility will house an expanded library and improved museum gallery and storage space. The building's new features will include: a state-of-the-art theater for lectures, live performances and film; the only kosher restaurant in downtown Chicago; space for community events, cultural festivals and celebrations; a special education center; a spectacular rooftop garden; and a more comprehensive gift shop with street access.

▲ In the last year, JUF/Federation also intensified its advocacy efforts to combat growing anti-Israel agitation and related anti-Semitism on college campuses. JUF/Federation sponsored 60 advocacy speakers and eight Israeli cultural programs on a dozen campuses, hired and deployed eight advocacy interns on six campuses; created an Israel Advocacy Handbook for students; and mobilized and organized Jewish faculty, as well as directly engaging university presidents, deans and provosts on Israel-related matters. JUF/Federation stipends sent 51 college students to attend regional and national conferences and 20 high school students to Washington, DC for an Advocacy Fly-In sponsored by its Jewish Community Relations Council.

In addition, JUF/Federation itself organized two major regional Israel Advocacy conferences, and established pilot Israel Advocacy Programs at Camp Ramah and Camp CHI.

- ▲ To support pioneering efforts to reach out to those in need and strengthen the Jewish community's ties to one another, the Federation awarded $895,000 to fund Priority Grant programs, including $200,000 for 5 ventures. Included in the round-up of new programs:
  - ▲ a state-of-the-art childcare center run by Jewish Ch Bureau and the JCCs that serves children with disabilities together with typical children;
  - ▲ a Community Foundation for Jewish Education adult w/pan to enhance Hebrew skills among local adults;
  - ▲ a joint effort by Council for Jewish Elderly and Jewish and Community Service to reach out to Russian-speaking elderly in the northern suburbs;
  - ▲ a commuter campus Hillel initiative to reach out to speaking teenagers;
  - ▲ a cooperative program of Mount Sinai and the AR make public healthcare insurance available to eligible clients; and
  - ▲ a new Co-Op program offered by Jewish Vocational and Keshet to combine vocational and life skills projects for young adults with developmental disabilities.

Repairing the World...

Since 1996, JUF/Federation's TOV Volunteer Network has provided hands-on opportunities for people of all ages to engage in acts of kindness, charity and righteousness that make the world whole.

Working with local congregations and Federation's network of partner agencies, each year TOV links 10,000 community volunteers with people and projects that need their help. With a constant stream of volunteers throughout the community serving meals, visiting nursing homes, teaching children to read, hosting food, toiletry and book drives, and cleaning up cemeteries, TOV has become a national model for generating community participation.

Throughout the Federation's network of partner agencies, volunteers annually contribute more than 200,000 hours to this community, a donation valued at some $3.3 million.

▲ The TOV Literacy Project, now entering its fifth year, is a one-on-one reading program that places volunteers in 12 public and private schools throughout Chicago and the suburbs to assist children in kindergarten through third grade from a diversity of backgrounds. Volunteers devote an hour once a week, working with the same child throughout the school year. An affiliate of the National Jewish Coalition for Literacy, the TOV Literacy Project recently partnered with Software for Success to expand to include online tutoring. Special tutoring software enables volunteers to help first graders to improve their reading skills through interactive sessions conducted on the Internet—and also allows businessmen and women to participate in the TOV Literacy Project without having to commute to the schools during business hours.

▲ Young community volunteers also got involved in the TOV Literacy Project by taking part in a 2003 book drive, collecting more than 6,000 books for Jewish day schools, public schools, social service organizations and community literacy programs. Several 13-year-olds participated as part of their Bar and Bat Mitzvah projects, and fueled the book drive's success.

▲ Last November and December, TOV teamed up with Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago for the five-year-old community tradition of "Merry Mitzvot," a program where the two faith communities work in tandem to bring warmth and sustenance to those in need during the Winter holidays. During the time surrounding Thanksgiving, Chanukah and Christmas, nearly 1,100 volunteers worked within Jewish, Catholic and secular facilities to deliver and serve meals, stock and distribute toys, visit the sick and the elderly and host holiday parties. Merry Mitzvot involved volunteers of all ages, with special opportunities for teenagers to participate, and reached out to the most vulnerable members of the community: children, seniors, people with disabilities, the hungry, the homeless and the homebound.

▲ The Spring months brought TOV's companion "Mitzvah Mania" programming, which provided opportunities for some 700 volunteers to deliver

...Through Volunteerism

Passover food packages to Jewish families in need, help Catholic senior citizens celebrate Easter, serve meals to impoverished families and plant prairies and public gardens. Each year, Mitzvah Mania also features collection drives, including toiletries for the homeless, food staples for struggling families, books for underprivileged children—and even cell phones for victims of domestic violence.

▲ In Summer 2003, TOV launched its new Cemetery Restoration Project. Last year, the Federation received title to an old, two-acre cemetery situated on the boundary of Morton Grove and Niles. Faced with repeated petitions to develop the land while the cemetery itself was in need of repairs, the Illinois Attorney General asked the Federation to assume responsibility for the Kehillah Jacob Anshe Drohiczen Cemetery. The cemetery originally belonged to Congregation Kehleleth Jacob, formed in 1890 by Russian immigrants; its most famous member was a young Benny Goodman. The last burial is believed to have taken place in 1937. By the early 1970s, the cemetery was in total disrepair, after passing through the hands of several now-defunct cemetery associations. In 1988, the North Suburban Synagogue Council restored a part of the cemetery, while the Jewish Genealogical Society listed and mapped the graves. Volunteers recruited by the Federation first came to the site in 1995, cleaning gravestones, cutting grass and repairing fences.

In October 2002, the TOV Volunteer Network sponsored a major clean-up of the cemetery, which tragically had served as a dumping ground and was littered with refuse. It was a spirited community effort that brought out families, singles, couples and seniors, working together to honor the memories of those who had come before them.

Now that the cemetery has been cleared and replanted, TOV volunteers ages 10 and older come together on periodic Sunday afternoons throughout the year to help tend the grounds—and to learn about the history of the cemetery, the history of our community, and the traditions and Jewish laws regarding burial.

In the coming year, these and other TOV efforts will continue to expand and accelerate. Updated TOV volunteer information is now 24 hours a day, seven days a week online (www.juf.org/tov) and monthly "hot sheets" electronically to 3,000 regular TOV volunteers also is beginning to work more closely with synagogues, assisting and collaborating with congregations on their social action agenda even has developed a new Social Action Guide synagogues, which is available online.

And so the work of JUF/Federation's TOV Network continues to grow, helping member community to take active responsibility for being of others, open their hearts and hands in need, and actively participate in tikkun o

One Life at a Time

Time and again, Joel watched his mother narrowly avoid car accidents. He didn't think she should be driving anymore, but also knew how much she valued her freedom. His sister said he was exaggerating. Angry at his sister and worried about his mother, Joel didn't know what to do.

A friend suggested that Joel see Jewish Family and Community Service (JFCS). The JFCS social worker met with all three family members. Joel's mom agreed that she was having difficulty driving at night and would only drive during the day. Joel and his sister learned to communicate and work together better.

"The family sessions were so helpful," Joel said. "I don't think we would have talked so productively without her help."

Melissa's parents just didn't know what to do. Their sweet-faced 3-year-old kept getting into fights at pre-school. She grabbed other kids' toys, and kicked and bit them. Finally, she was asked to leave the school. It was the third pre-school that had asked her to leave.

They contacted the Virginia Frank Child Development Center for help. Melissa met with an educational therapist and was evaluated by a psychologist, who saw that Melissa had trouble putting her feelings into words, so the slightest frustration made her fall apart.

A social worker met with the entire family and explained the reasons for Melissa's behavior—and then helped the family learn how to help their daughter to manage her impulses.

Treasurer's Report

Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chi

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003, the Federation allocated a total of $43,883,325. The report on following page shows the service areas to which those allocations were made, as well as the sources of funding. The figures in this report are before audit since the annual audit is now in progress.

The United Way allocated $2,031,643 for the 2002-03 year and we are most appreciative of their understanding and continued generous support.

The Federal Government Department of Human Services awarded $87,400 as part of its Matching Grant Program to assist Federation in the resettlement of 103 Soviet Jews and 23 refugees from other parts of the world who are during this fiscal year.

The Conference on Jewish Material Claims Against Germany awarded Federation $475,250 for Holocaust Correlation Services, a joint project of Federation, Council for Jewish Elderly and Jewish Family and Community Service. Each quarter, an average of 1,000 aging survivors received critical support, including counseling, advocacy and coordination services such as home-delivered kosher meals, adult day services, transportation assistance and personal care.

The State of Illinois awarded $7,125,367 to Federation for the conduct and administration of the Refugee Services Programs across Illinois, the statewide citizenship initiative and other programs. More than 2,700 clients received services administered by the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago through 11 participating service agencies.

We received other income of $14,837,000—primarily generated by Endowment Funds. This is a significant portion of the total budget needs which is made possible by generous men and women who, over the years, have remitted their contributions to the Federation in their wills.

The principal source of funding for the Federation is the Jewish United Fund of Metropolitan Chicago. We wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to each of you for your generous support of the Jewish United Fund. Your contributions make possible the vital humanitarian services of Federation and its agencies for tens of thousands of people throughout the community.

Respectfully submitted,

Alan P. Solow
Treasurer

at a Time

Rosa squirrels away dinner rolls under her mattress. She frequently hides from the nursing staff, and becomes hysterical at the suggestion of taking a shower.

Elderly and stricken with Alzheimer's, Rosa is one of thousands of Holocaust survivors in the Chicago area who struggle with age-related dementia—and with memories of the Holocaust that have returned with scaring clarity.

To help make life easier for survivors like Rosa, representatives of the Holocaust Community Services Program work with local nursing home staffs to provide sensitivity training. "Sometimes, the solution is as simple as offering Rosa a bath instead of a shower," one of her caretaker says. "Once you understand her reality, it's simple to put it at ease."

Holocaust Community Services is a program of Council for Jewish Elderly, Jewish Family and Community Service and the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago. To protect confidentiality, photographs is not of actual client.

at a Time

Joey's mother has cancer, and his father is disabled; neither is able to work full-time. The family's health insurance benefits have been depleted, and their financial situation is becoming increasingly desperate. Joey simply would not be able to attend ICC camp this summer if not for the scholarship assistance made available to him.

The excitement and camaraderie—and the love and care that will be offered by ICC staff over the summer months—are eagerly anticipated by this young boy and by his parents, as they struggle to stay positive in the face of most difficult circumstances.

One Life
at a Time

When Esther learned that the baby she was carrying had life threatening heart defects, she and her husband were devastated. The couple, who had emigrated from Poland a decade before, had no health insurance to cover the surgeries their newborn would require to survive.

Then their rabbi told them about Sinai Health System, which provides state-of-the-art health care to people like Esther, regardless of their ability to pay. Esther's son was born at Mount Sinai Hospital, and provided with three lifesaving surgeries and all necessary follow-up care, free of charge. Today, Esther is the mother of a healthy toddler—and forever grateful. "The big happen of our life didn't happen," she says. "Thank God for this place."

Sinai Health System is a partner in serving our community, receiving support from the Jewish Federation.

The Centennial Campaign

The year 2000 marked a significant event in Chicago's Jewish community – the Jewish Federation's 100th year of providing health and human services. To honor this historical event, the Federation proudly embarked upon The Centennial Campaign. This multi-hundred-million dollar capital and endowment campaign anticipates our community's needs in decades to come and helps firmly ground us for the challenges of the next 100 years.

Together, the Federation and its affiliated agencies and beneficiaries have selected a wide range of projects that address the evolving needs of our diverse community. Through these efforts, contributors have the opportunity to support issues closest to their hearts and make meaningful gifts at many levels.

Five primary gift-planning options offer donors a variety of ways to participate in The Centennial Campaign:

CENTENNIAL CONTINUUM PROJECTS provide donors the opportunity to fund high-priority capital or programmatic initiatives. These include special naming opportunities.

CAMPAIGN CONTINUITY FUNDS sustain a donor's annual gift to the Jewish United Fund in perpetuity, providing crucial support for Federation's initiatives, at home and abroad, today and for generations to come. A Lion of Judah Endowment (LOJE) is a special Campaign Continuity Fund, which sustains a woman's annual Lion of Judah contribution to the JUF campaign in perpetuity.

CONTINUITY FUNDS, the most flexible of the Continuity gifts and the only source of emergency resources, enable JUF/Federation to respond to crises and opportunities whenever and wherever they occur.

AGENCY AND DAY SCHOOL ENDOWMENT GIFTS ensure that the network of services that are the lifeblood of our community will be available for future generations.

INCOME FOR LIFE CONTINUITY FUNDS provide a donor or his/her loved ones with income payments throughout their lifetimes and sustain the Jewish community for future generations.

These gifts can be made during one's lifetime, through a bequest, or by completing a quantified Declaration of Intent. Depending on the nature of the gift, donors of The Centennial Campaign are entitled to specific tax benefits.

The Centennial Campaign donors' vision and foresight will be honored through special recognition.

One Life at a Time

Lindsay's mother was concerned because her daughter would not stop washing her hands. Then, Lindsay began to neglect her homework—and her friends—and instead devoted more and more time to running. When Lindsay arrived for her first appointment at Response Center, the therapist was immediately struck by the 8th grader's emaciated appearance.

The Response Center therapist immediately sent Lindsay for a medical assessment; she then was referred to the eating disorder unit at a local hospital. The Response Center therapist was an integral part of Lindsay's treatment team. Lindsay has since made a successful transition into high school, has maintained a healthy body weight and is no longer exhibiting obsessive-compulsive behaviors.

Response Center is a partner in serving our community, receiving support from the Jewish Federation.

One Life at a Time

When Dorothy Tenenbaum entered the Council for Jewish Elderly's Lieberman Geriatric Centre, she thought it would be the end of the world. Instead, she says it has transformed her life. Two years ago, the wheelchair-bound senior picked up a paintbrush for the first time in her life and discovered a genuine talent she never knew she had. Now her twice-weekly painting class at Lieberman has become the focal point of her life. "When I'm painting, I'm in another world - a place where I'm alive," said Dorothy, 98, whose artwork decorates the halls of Lieberman. "It makes me so happy. This is something that happens to a person once in a century."

Council for Jewish Elderly is a partner in serving our community, receiving support from the Jewish Federation.

One Life at a Time

American college campuses have become centers for anti-Israel agitation, and Jewish students need help in confronting it. Our young people face frequent demonstrations on campus, where pro-Palestinian demonstrators scream anti-Israel slogans in the Jewish kids' faces.

In response, the Jewish Federation, the Jewish Community Relations Council (JCRC) and Hillel Leadership have met with college officials, hosted pro-Israel speakers on campus, sponsored student missions to Israel, supported Israel advocates on campus, and brought together students throughout Chicago and for Israel advocacy seminars.

Programs like this are the only support that students have when combating a lot of anti-Semitism, a lot of anti-Israel propaganda," says Michael

The Jewish Community Relations Council and the Hillels of Illinois are partners in serving our community, receiving support from the Jewish Federation.

Continuity Givers

Throughout the past 100 years, many donors have declared their intention to provide for the future of our Jewish community through their wills and through lifetime arrangements, deferred lifetime gifts – such as charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, pooled income funds, life insurance and through donor-advised funds. They are our Continuity Givers.

We are deeply grateful to our Continuity Givers for creating generous legacies that reflect their values and commitment to the continuity of our community.

at a Time

Although she was raised in an observant home and attended Jewish day schools, Shoshana found herself questioning Jewish values and rebelling against many religious practices. Then, a friend encouraged Shoshana to try an afternoon high school program at the Melvin I. Eisenberg Institute of the Associated Talmud Torahs (ATT). One day Shoshana observed a teacher gently showing a young girl how to pray. "I hadn't davent (prayed) in so many years, at I didn't realize until just then how much I missed it," she said. Shoshana realized that Judaism was precious to her.

Shoshana went on to attend ATT's summer Israel program subsidized by the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago. She is now an active and fundraiser for Israel and plans on a year's seminary study in Jerusalem.

Quality at a Time

Leonid's mother and grandmother read about HIAS Chicago's scholarship in a Chicago Russian language newspaper. An outstanding graduating high school senior, Leonid applied, and was awarded a HIAS Chicago college scholarship because of his exceptional accomplishments. His paternal grandparents were so proud that they came from Israel to be with him on the momentous occasion.

Leonid has since completed his sophomore year at a local university, where he was president of the campus Hillel. He is one of the many talented young people who have benefited from HIAS Chicago scholarships, which offer students financial assistance as they struggle to meet rising college costs.

"Someday," Leonid says, "I will be able to give back to my community."

HIAS Chicago is a partner in serving our community, receiving support from the Jewish Federation.

Bequests

The Jewish Federation and Jewish United Fund gratefully recall those — may their memory be a blessing — who have left the posthumous mark of their compassion upon our community through a bequest to the Jewish Federation or Jewish United Fund during the preceding year.

During the year ended June 30, 2003, the Jewish Federation and Jewish United Fund were advised of the following bequests. The farsighted and dedicated people making these gifts have fulfilled their commitment to ensure the future welfare of the Jewish community in metropolitan Chicago, Israel and throughout the world. Money received from these bequests is added to the Federation Endowment Fund. The income produced by the Endowment Fund will provide over $10 million to the support of our agencies during the coming year.

Stuart calls himself "the reverse jazz singer;" he was a successful singer who dreamed of working as a cantor. With a theater degree from Northwestern University and stage stints in Israel, at the Yiddish theater in New York and at the Goodman in Chicago, Stuart had the voice, but felt he needed more knowledge to back it up. So Stuart got his master's in Jewish Studies at Spertus, filling in gaps in his education from Jewish history to the Talmud. He learned synagogue customs, the Hebrew language and Jewish liturgy.

Today, Stuart stars full-time in what he calls "the show that never closes;" the synagogue service, and coaches students preparing for their B'nai Mitzvah. The Spertus Institute helped him find his Jewish voice.

Spertus Institute of Jewish Studies is a partner in serving our community, receiving support from the Jewish Federation.

at a Time

Avi grew up on the East Coast, where he attended Jewish day school. When he went on to a public high school, he found that he missed learning in a Jewish environment. He searched the country for the right high school: "My life felt like a garden," he wrote in his application essay, "that had been paved over."

He decided on the Hebrew Theological College's Oscar Z. Fisman Yeshiva High School in Skokie. There, Avi flourished. He graduated with excellent grades, and won the admiration of his teachers and the friendship of his fellow students. Next year, Avi plans to continue his studies in a yeshiva (Jewish seminary) in Israel.

At age 12, Rachel is on the bittersweet cusp of maturity. One minute she's playing with stickers; the next, she's talking about boys. Through the Community Foundation for Jewish Education's "Miriam's Path" initiative, Rachel participates in a Rosh Hodesh group with other 6th grade girls building her self-confidence and leadership skills.

With each new moon, Rachel and her friends gather to focus on a different Jewish theme, discussing issues relevant their lives in a Jewish context.

During Purim, reading the Scroll of Esther led to a conversation about the difference "masks" girls wear in their role as daughters, sisters and friends—and how to be true to yourself. The papier-mache mask Rachel crafted to express herself shows a confident girl ready to take on the world.
